To whom it may concern,

As a Chartered Educational Psychologist and Associate Fellow of the British Psychological Society, I write to affirm that I am familiar with the Treasure Hunt programme initiated by Mrs SD Chrysler and to commend it in the most complimentary terms.

The programme is a holistic child development initiative and is informed by sophisticated psychological knowledge and teaching strategies, whilst maintaining a high level of cultural sensitivity and spiritual emphasis. It has been implemented in schools across the United Kingdom and is ground-breaking in its empathetic and sensitive approach which takes a child-centred perspective. It is based on 12 Core Values that create an internal spiritual strength and inner resilience. It builds not only the children, but their relationships with others and most importantly with H-Shem.

I have observed the exponential benefits manifested by children who have been exposed to this project and I have no hesitation in recommending it for implementation in other schools.

Yours faithfully,

N. W. Sher C.Psychol, AFBPsS,
